With a view to meet the Company's overseas development funding needs, further improve the Company's capital structure, optimize leverage ratio, expand financing channels, and control financing costs, in accordance with relevant laws and regulations and normative documents, combining the overseas bond market and the Company funding situation in the next 1–2 years, the Company proposes a special resolution to issue overseas bonds of no more than USD800 million or equivalent currency through its wholly-owned or controlling subsidiaries, and provide corresponding keepwell deed or cross-border joint and several liability guarantee for the issuer to fulfill its payment obligations of all debt principals and interest repayment obligations. The relevant details are as follows:

According to the Company's overseas development and funding plan, the Company's overseas investment amount will exceed USD1 billion in the next 1–2 years, and there will be USD300 million bond due to be repaid in 2025. Therefore, sufficient and long-term stable funding sources are necessary guarantees for the rapid development and stable operation of overseas businesses.

. A

Overseas investment has been a key direction of investment for companies in recent years. Issuing overseas bonds can support overseas capex and operation directly, reduces the risk of exchange losses and foreign exchange regulatory restrictions caused by the entry and exit of funds. At the same time, it can also fully utilize the advantages of abundant overseas capital market products, diverse types of investors, and few restrictions on the use of funds to meet the current needs of the Company's overseas development.

(1) I

Based on the characteristics and market conditions of overseas bonds, it is proposed that the issuing entity shall be the Company's overseas wholly-owned or controlling subsidiaries.

(2) T , , , ***

The types of overseas bonds to be issued this time include perpetual bonds and ordinary bonds, with a total size not exceeding USD800 million or equivalent currency, and can be issued in installments according to funding needs.

(3) T

Perpetual bonds with a maturity of 30 years or more or no fixed maturity, including term (usually after 5 years) redeemable clauses.

The term of ordinary bonds is not more than 10 years (including 10 years), and can be a single term variety or a mixed variety of terms.

The specific issuance period, redemption time, issuance scale, and redemption scale of each term variety shall be determined by the Board of Directors and persons authorized by the Board of Directors within the above-mentioned scope based on market and the Company's funding conditions.

(4) P ***

The funds raised from the proposed issuance of overseas bonds, after deducting issuance expenses, will be used for overseas mergers and acquisitions, other capex, debt repayment, supplementary working capital, and other permitted purposes. It is proposed to the AGM to authorise the Board of Directors and persons authorized by the Board of Directors to determine the specific purpose of the raised funds within the above-mentioned scope based on the Company's financial situation.

(5) I ***

It is proposed to the AGM to authorize the Board of Directors and persons authorized by the Board of Directors to determine the specific interest rate level, determination method, and payment method for the proposed issuance of guarantee of overseas bonds, including but not limited to specific issuance scale, bond term, bond type, bond interest rate and its determination method,

Pursuant to Article 139 of the Articles, the term of a Director shall be three years and upon expiry of the term, the retiring Director shall be eligible for re-election. The term of office of all existing Directors will expire on the date of the AGM. In such connection, resolutions will be proposed at the AGM to consider and, if thought fit, approve the re-election of those Directors who offer themselves for re-election.

All of the aforementioned Directors will offer themselves for re-election at the AGM for another three-year term.

The above matters are subject to the approval at the AGM.

The biographies and other details of the Proposed Directors are set out Appendix IV to this circular.
